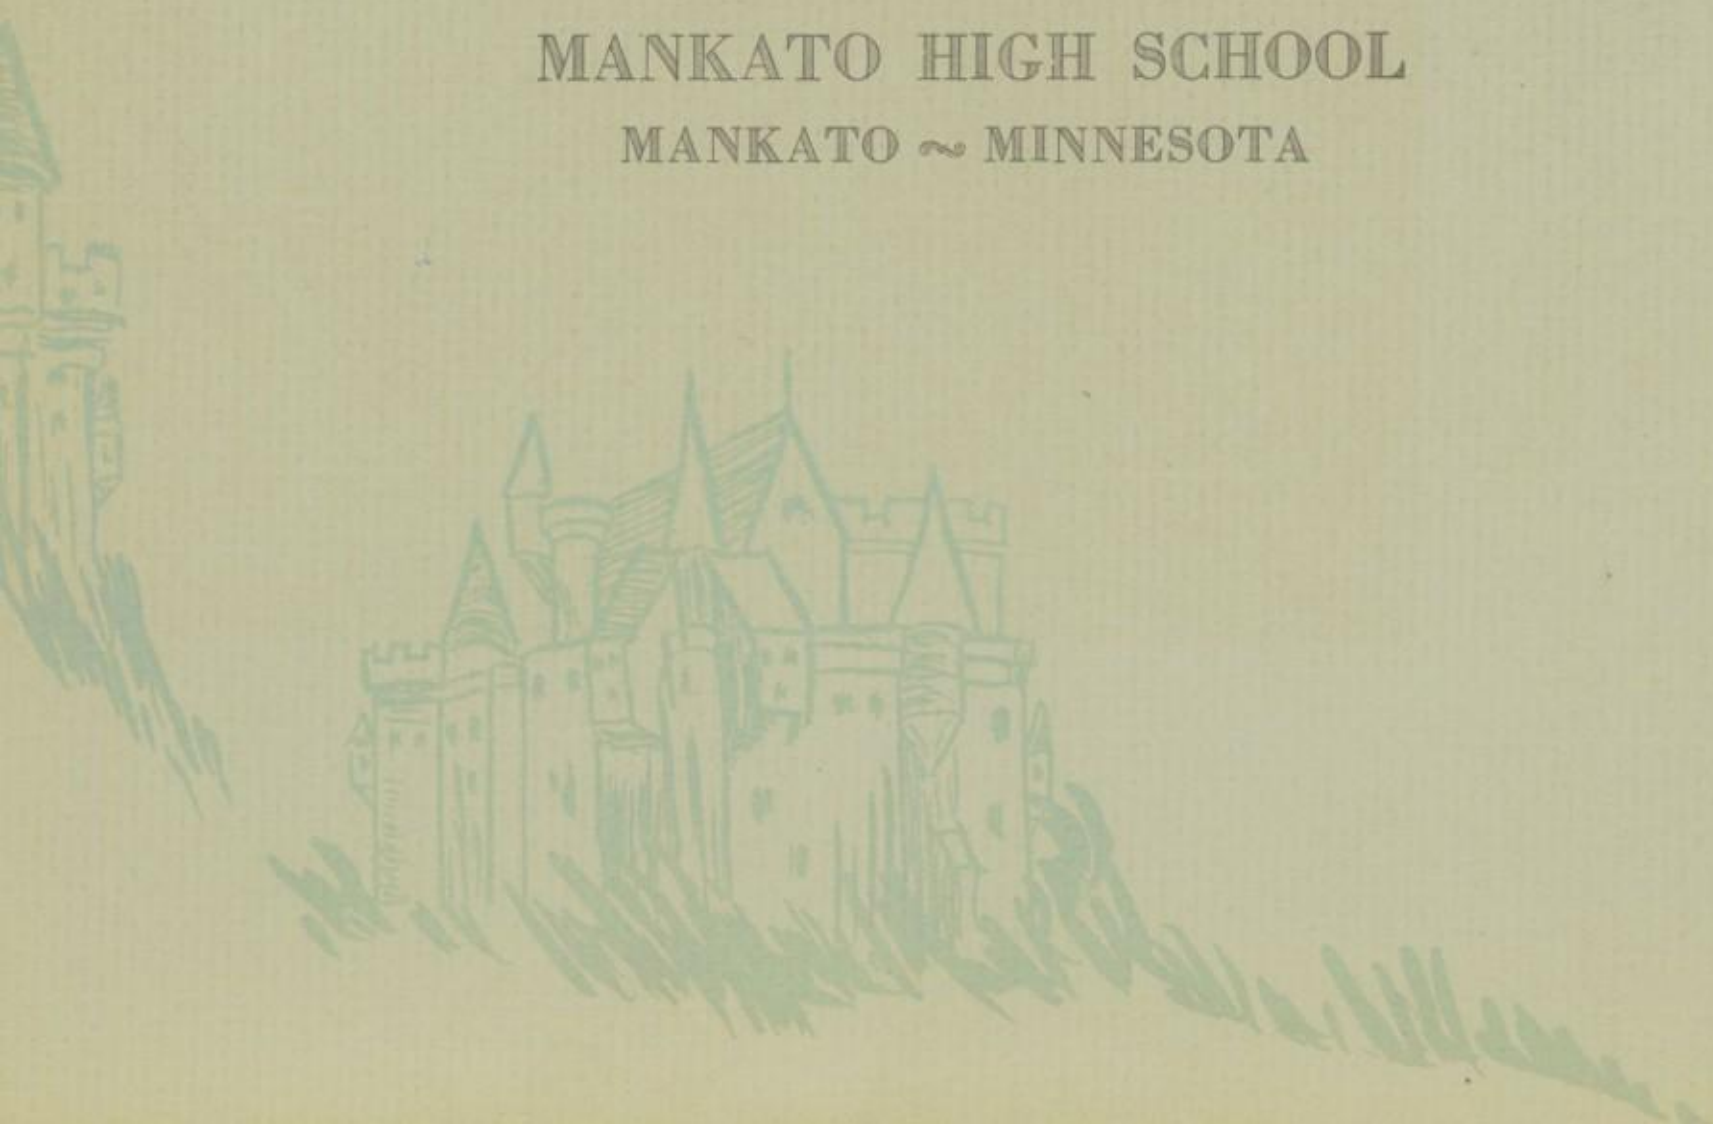
MANKATO HIGH SCHOOL

MANKATO ~ MINNESOTA



Coach Louis Todnem

Dedication Message

JUST as knights had their code of honor and chivalry, we as students of Mankato High School have our Scarlet Code which has been inspired and built up by our coach, Louis N. Todnem. A true advocator of clean sportsmanship and fair play, Coach has shown himself to be all that Chaucer's phrase "a verray parfit gentil knight" embodies. To show in some manner our reverence and respect we affectionately dedicate this, the 1931 Otaknam to Coach Louis Todnem.

"But Lancelot on him urged
All the devisings of their chivalry
Where one might meet a mightier than himself;
How best to manage horse, lance, sword and shield
And so fill up the gap where force might fail
With skill and fineness."

In Memoriam :

Kenneth Appel

The Code of the Scarlet

"I will play fair, I will play hard, I will play for the joy of playing, the success of the team, and the honor of the school."

Officials

EVERY organization or business, professional or educational, must move forward. Our organization is no exception to this rule and from time to time innovations have been introduced in order that everything may move along more advantageously, and to the greatest good of the largest number. For example, every student should have a part in some activity that he enjoys. Hence, since there are only a limited number of activities, no student should monopolize these, and so each student is limited to fifty extra-curricular points each year.

The highest compliment that can be paid a student is to trust him. This is the theory of the honor study hall. Anyone who violates the privileges of this special study hall must bring a new petition to the study hall board in order to regain admittance.

Every effort is made to the end that every student be given every reasonable and legitimate opportunity to make a passing grade. An earnest effort is made to discover the reason for every failure. The number of failures has been reduced from seven to four per cent. We have adopted the standard system of marking so a student coming to Mankato High School finds a system of marking similar to the one he left in his previous school. Likewise, a Mankato student going to another school finds there the same system.

So we could go on mentioning our home rooms, the pass system, record enrollment, personnel department, internal accounting system, and other things to show that Mankato High School aims to keep abreast of the times, to do a better job each year, and do it more efficiently.

"They make a peach of a pear"

And now we're turning our faces from here,
There are other goals to find;
But it's hard to leave this place so dear
And harder to leave friends behind,
Of course, we had our faults, you know,—
As everyone else has theirs—
But in spite of faults, accomplishments grow
By the time one acquires grey hairs.
These faces may not look great to you now,
But remember, and keep this in mind:
More than one will have a name of renown
Some will be geniuses, you'll find.

Class History

Sophomores

Adventure is at every hand;
Before the castle gates we stand,
Squires are we, before these gates,
Ready to meet and battle all fates.

With fearful steps we enter her walls,
March slowly down her ancient halls;
Dragons and ogres we expect to meet,
Demons which we'll some day defeat.

We now our lord to all proclaim,
Squire Russell. Long will live his fame.
The halls resound with mighty cheers,
When this proof of our skill appears.

Squire Mick was our lord's chief aid;
Our wealth was guarded by a maid.
The Lady Katherine, a treasurer rare;
Squire Stevens records kept with care.

Our sponsor, Page, assisted us now;
To start our work, she showed us how.
With steadying hand she helped us through,
And to our cause was ever true.

Excitement reigns within our ranks
Some regret their knavish pranks·
Rewards are given for work we've done.
The first report comes to each one.

The haughty juniors hold their ball,
And on our sophomore maids they call,
To serve them, also help to cheer
The greatest occasion of the year.

A year of toil we've struggled thru,
To our lords and masters always true;
Our days of squiredom now are done
And great adventures are begun.

Juniors

Once more before the castle gate,
No longer squires, but juniors great!
The knightly seniors have their king,
Why can't we, too, have such a thing?

So up before our mighty host,
Sir Mick becomes the royal toast;
We place a crown upon his brow,
And loyalty to him avow.

The first of those who served the king,
A maid, whom to us joy did bring:
Lady Page, smiling at her work,
Defied us all our task to shirk.

Then came the scribe, a royal knight
Who kept the records of our might:
Sir Charles always was on hand,
For our rights to take his stand.

Last, but not least, is the lady whose fame
Will be recalled when we mention her name;
Lady Morris took the task, so hard to do,
Of keeping accounts balanced and true.

And our adviser, we'll ne'er forget,
To leave her behind is our one regret;
Mrs. Trafton, who always gave her best,
And toiled for us without a rest.

Our coat of arms, at last it came!
An emblem which will share our fame.
A ring was placed upon each hand
Of this courtly junior band.

A play, to swell our coffers old,
In Lincoln castle we did hold;
And folks from o'er the countryside
Came to behold it in a great tide.

To Franklin fortress we next did go
To give this great and wondrous show;
Again a great success was made,
The glory of which will never fade.

An army of workers soon we call
To make ready for the coming ball;
Lincoln castle was our goal,
We set to work with heart and soul.

King Mick, that night, all classes lead,
And with the Lady Evelyn tread
A stately measure in Lincoln hall,
On the eve of that wondrous ball.

A year of gaiety, a year of fun,
Plays and pageants for us fame had won.
We had done our part in play and fights,
Reward was ours, we now were knights!

Seniors

A haughty group before her gates
We had met, battled, and conquered fates;
Our steps upon her halls did ring,
We now pay homage to another king.

Sir Norman of stature fine and tall
Was chosen as best among us all;
With courtly mien he took his throne,
We had indeed come unto our own!

We now Sir Erwin do acclaim,
He helps our King; long live his name!
Lord Erwin is a loyal aide;
We vow his name will never fade!

Sir Robert, a scribe that's hard to beat,
Kept records others will try to repeat;
O gallant knight, no foe have you,
You've been to us so great and true!

Then comes the keeper of our gold;
A place in our memory, Sir Wallace will hold;
A man of the ladies truly was he,
The only one of all the three!

Miss Duke, new counselor, is ready to give
Her advice on how good knights should live,
O fortunate class, that she should come
And help do tasks that we'd begun.

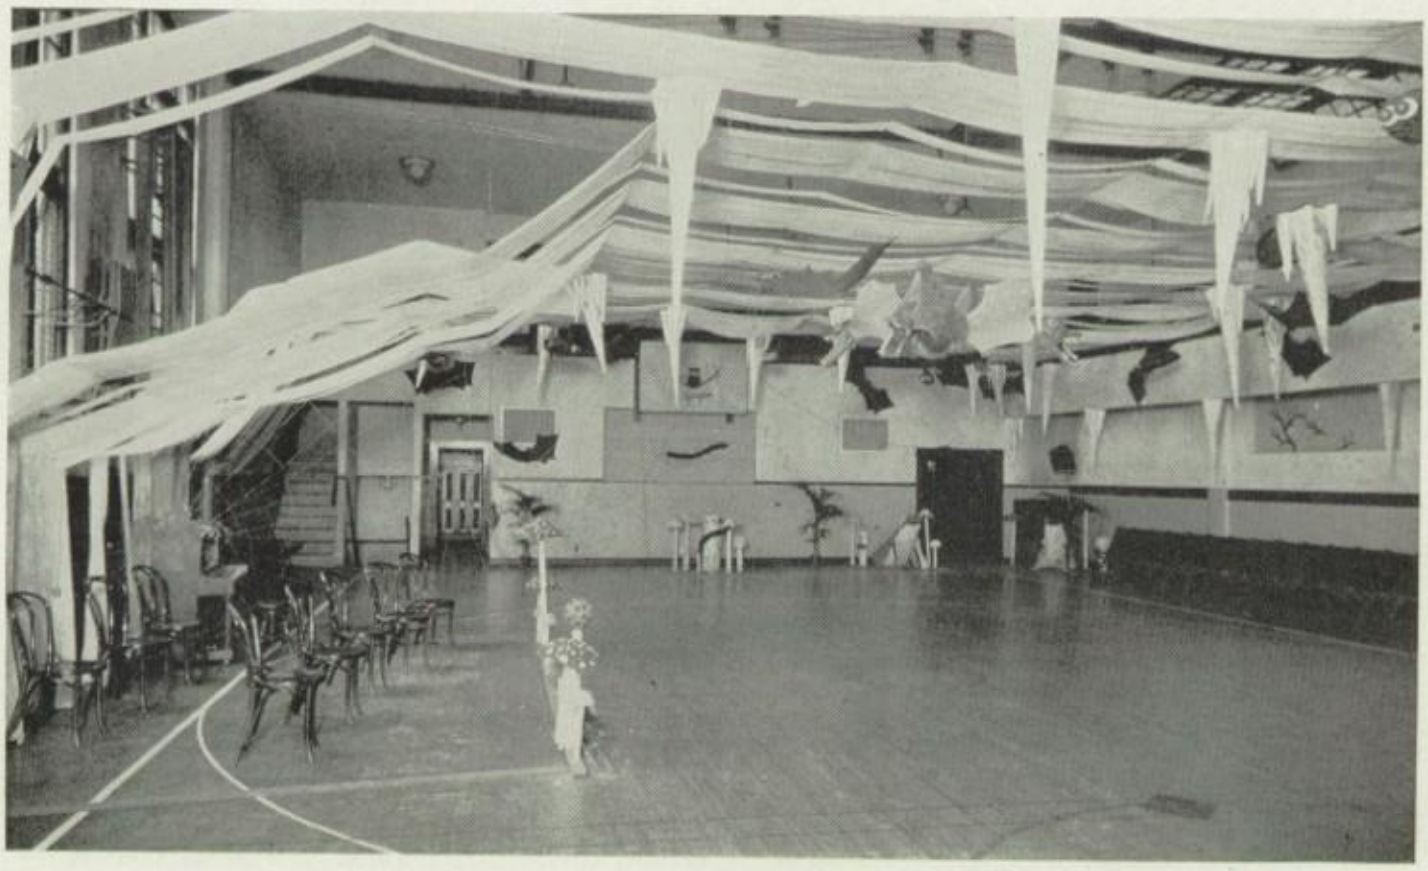
For one gay night we drop our cloak
Of dignity, and mingle with the common folk.
O what a carnival time was that—
'Tis still subject for many a chat.

Banners of Scarlet and White we made,
And carried them forward in great parade.
King Norman and Lady Evelyn came through
As winners in that contest true.

We now pass out of her ancient gates,
Truly the greatest of the greats!
The old castle sighs, she never will see
An array of knights so noble as we.

We've accomplished things, both great and small,
And a careful record we've kept of all;
This record you'll find, only when you look
Into our masterpiece, the '31 book.

—KNIGHTS OF '31.



Junior-Senior Prom

THROUGH Aladdin's dimly lighted cavern the Juniors of 1930 lead their fascinated and delighted upperclassmen in the annual prom, given by the former class each year. Huge bats and beetles with brilliant colored eyes gave a glaring welcome to all who had assembled for the greatest festival of the year. A gigantic dragon with four heads, each of which revealed a fiery mouth and darting tongue, ruled majestically in the center of the cave's ceiling. Massive frogs, beside moss-covered streams of clear trickling water, gave the damp, dismal, and quite appropriate effect of the cavern of the mystified Chinese boy.

The feature of the evening was the grand march, directed by Aladdin himself and led by the Junior President, John Mickelson and his guest, Evelyn Page. From behind a huge spider web, which was being spun by two massive black spiders, Tiny's Toe Teasers played melodies which justified the name by which they were known.

During the dances, refreshments were served by Chinese maidens, who were dressed in their most brilliant native costumes. At 12 o'clock the spell of the lamp was broken. Aladdin disappeared, and the cavern was deserted by the merry Juniors and their jubilant guests. The latter left the cave with words of praise and regret for the short existence of the spell of the lamp.

Class Will

We, the Class of '31, being of sane mind, do hereby file notice of our last will and testament to be read before the first Assembly next year.

Because of our super-abundance of talents, superior intellects, and immensity of cerebral qualities, We, the Class of '31, feel it our duty to leave to the future inmates of this school some of these aforesaid talents, intellects, and cerebral qualities.—Signed, Convict 998.

1. Anything found in lockers previously occupied by Seniors is to be donated to the incoming Sophs.
2. Bowser Koenker, understudy of One-Eyed Connolly, passes on to Lyle Peek, Tony Vogt and Buzz Gauthier his reputation for crashing gates in every kind of entertainment.
3. Cliff Paswalk leaves to Paul Ellis his ability to get A's in Chemistry, Alg. III, and Physics. We sincerely hope Paul will now be able to struggle through German II.
4. Ray Neubert designates to Bob Williksen to carry on that old Scarlet fight of his.
5. Malcolm McLean bestows his dancing ability upon John Eustice.
6. Dale Wood bequeathes his well-worn manual, "How to Become a Ladies' Man" upon Kokie Mussell.
7. Genevieve Cummins and Marie Brown go together to present their air of innocence upon Dorothy Beise.
8. Mary Jane Walpole leaves that sad expression of hers to Lucile Olson.
9. Evelyn Morris gives her loyalty, friendliness, and hard-working qualities to the Class of '32, there being enough for all.
10. Healthy Mickelson is taking Babe along with him. Tough luck, Juniors!
11. Carl Risser hands over to Elmer Neubert his kingly mien.
12. Barbara Kuebler wills her poise, dancing ability, and sex appeal to Irene Holtze. Here's luck to you, Irene.
13. Dorothy Watts entrusts her demureness with Shoey.
14. Doug Davidson thought Clara Clements needed his driving ability.
15. Babe Page leaves her responsibilities to any 5 Juniors that are as unselfish as she is.

16. Emily Force thought Abe Wood needed her appetite to equal the rest of the Woods.

17. Mary Holm surrenders all her letters of advice from Dorothy Dix to Hermine Bierbauer.

18. To Mr. Small we leave carfare to get back to Michigan.

19. Earl Marks is to be the envied recipient of Carmen Crooker's talent.

20. To Don Heckel, Bob Wilcox relinquishes the right to take Coach to dinner.

21. Cat Drum donates her reducing exercises and waffle iron to Madeline Eichhorn.

22. Norman Meyer and Joe Ewalt leave their love for red hair to whomever wishes the worries and responsibilities.

23. John Flachsenhar proffers the tip of his nose to fill in Velzora Round's dimple.

24. Wally Liberty endows Ruth Roberts with his shapely legs.

25. Charles Strom* distributes his self-confidence amongst Julian Covington, John Goff, Weiners Haarstick, Cliff Mau, and Shorty Jovaag.

26. Kenny Stevens leaves his drag with the teachers to Dillon Billington.

27. Kat Schmitt leaves her air of sophistication to Mary Lu Lippert.

28. Margaret Brosnan wishes to give her kid sister to anyone who wants close surveillance.

29. Harriet Johnson imparts her sociable air to Ruth Trisko. We hope Ruth has as much success as Harriet had.

30. Doris Mann, Carmen Crooker, Kenneth Eldred, Betty Clements, Bob Berquist, Kenneth Stevens, John Lippert, Eleanora Swanson, Glenn Eckhardt, Donald McDermid, Helen Stewart, Berneice Rose, Naida Anderson, Rebecca George, Dolly McAfee, Dorothy Detamore, and Marjorie Smith leave their genial dispositions to Miss Petersen.

31. We pity the person who gets Bob Wilcox's regularity for falling in love.

32. Margaret Johnson leaves her hurried air to Stuart Proehl.

33. Chuck Pennington leaves his popularity with the "wimmen" to Carl Ingwalson.

34. Erve Fethke thoughtfully appoints Gordy Kiesel to take kind and considerate care of Betty Cook.

* If this makes these boys too self-confident, we pity the high school next year.

Junior Class Play

THE unique idea of having two separate casts was initiated by the class of 1931, when it presented, "Blow Your Own Horn" as its class play at the Lincoln Auditorium on January 31, and at the Franklin Auditorium on February 1.

The comedy was said to be the funniest one produced in years and the advantage of a double cast gave more people the chance to show their ability along dramatic lines. The play was ably directed by Miss Frances Erie and the proceeds helped to pay the expenses of the Prom.

Class Prophecy

'TWAS on the night of graduation and seated around an old hag in the center of the gym the class of '31 sat in rapt attention. In her claw-like hands the old hag held a gnarled stick with which she was stirring the contents of her tripod. Dense fumes rose in smoky clouds to the ceiling. Standing beside her was "Snory" Meyer gazing in wonder at the pythoness. All was silent. In a cracked and querulous voice the witch began to mutter as if to herself. The good ol' scribe of the class, Bob Berquist, translated her weird mutterings into this fantastic prophecy:

"Many long years have passed. In the distance is a castle surrounded by a moat. It was designed by Carmen Crooker and constructed by Frank Hennessey and John Hall Co., Inc. The drawbridge is slowly let down and three gallant Knights, Russ Foster, Harold Barr, and Wally Liberty come riding through followed by Bob Wilcox and Warner Steffey in a new run-about, the kind that runs about five minutes, then stops. Bob is driving at the usual speed and almost runs down the Knights. The royal speed cop, Ray Hanson, forces the speeders to slow up. The guards, Johnny Thro and Dave McElroy, allow the approaching group to enter.

"Inside the palace the pages, Virgie Allman and Cora Dot Lawrence, announce to the King Norman Meyer and Queen Margaret Johnson the arrival of the Prince of Topsy Turvey Land, John Flachsenhar. Excitement reigns throughout the Kingdom of Otaknam, for there is a rumor that the prince has come to ask for the hand of the fair princess, Babe Page. But alas! when the princess hears of her proposed marriage, she is greatly grieved, for she loves another. He is an outlaw, and she is a princess!

"Preparations begin at once for the approaching wedding. Sag Risser and Kenny Stevens, as the king's royal criers, leave on their velocipedes to spread the news of the coming marriage.

"The sound of a trumpet arises and into the king's chamber comes the captain of the royal tacklers, Bert Bosteter, followed by other tacklers: leftout, Owen Moede; rightout, Richard Viergever; left tickler, Glenn Eckhardt; right tickler, Carl Weber; left mud-guard, Alvin Lind; and right mud-guard, Eugene Jefferson. Following then comes Chuck Pennington and the queen's hoopiers. The personnel of the hoopiers are: Chuck, captain; Wayne Curtis, backward; Harold Karstens, garter; Don Hoover, backward; and Tom Hodson, garter. They are all given instructions to protect the castle in case of attack.

"Next the King calls for his wife's attendants, Mary Benham (who upon entering slyly smiles at the captain of the tacklers), Naida Anderson, Mary Francis Little, Norma Brey, Marie Brown, and Genevieve Cummins. They are told to get the queen out of bed and dressed early on the morrow.

"Guests are already arriving. Among them are Phyllis Book in her new ermine wrap, Ellis Adams with a handsome new scarf, Walter Affolter with his favorite dog 'beans.' Butch Hanson and Naida Gibbs come in together, which was explained by Naida saying that Butch picked her up. Faye Gendler, Rebecca George, and Edna Fuller arrive in a taxi driven by Dale Fitcher. Marian Reinke is taking pictures as the guests approach.

"A noise like the falling of a house is heard. All the guests jump to their feet, but it is only the court jesters, led by Max Otto.

"In the kitchen the cooks Vernace Schmidt, Eleanora Swanson, Burnice Thieman, and Florence Turtle are getting food ready for the thousands. The bakers, Carmen Stoll, Evelyn Uppstrom, Phelvie Gunstrom and Jo Schulz are at their ovens making all kinds of goodies. It is to be an all-night party, so the candle makers,

"In the princess' room a gorgeous trouseau is being prepared by Mary Jane Walpole, a renowned dressmaker. The queen followed by her ladies-in-waiting, Dorothy Warner, Dorothy Watts, and Dorothy Kramer, bustle from one room to another, while the King and his future son-in-law drink soda water and eat lady-fingers.

"The broken hearted princess weeps silently. Morning comes! As the princess enters the church the choir—Luella Weston, Selma Sorheim, Olive Stanford, Ruth Jovaag and Margaret Ann Jones—are heard singing 'On Mankato.' The guards of honor—Paul Jensen, Douglas Davidson, Walter Dauer, Ernest Hanson, and John Thro—are in their places behind the prince.

"Breaking the silence of the hour comes a ringing of bells and tramping of horses' hoofs. Someone is entering the churchyard without permission of the guards! Suddenly above the confusion rises a shrill scream and the princess is carried away by a stranger dressed in Lincoln green. The King and the deserted bridegroom issue orders to their Knights to follow the band and their leader. But to no avail! Once in the forest they realize their fruitless hopes. The group of outlaws seem to have been swallowed by the shadowy forest.

" 'I see no more—' muttered the fortune teller—but wait!

"The princess is escorted to a distant land with true royality where her outlaw reigns. I see the happy couple before an altar. He leads her to a throne and reveals himself as Johnny Mickelson, King of Mickyland."

The witch ceases stirring the pot, the smoke diminishes, and with this she slowly fades from view. The class of '31 is left in a dreamland, a Kingdom of Chivalry and Knighthood.

VASSALS

"So Gareth all for glory underwent
The sooty yoke of kitchen vassalage,
All kinds of service with a noble ease
That graced the lowliest act in doing it."

THE class play "It Won't Be Long Now", presented March 6 and 7 at the Lincoln and Franklin auditoriums, respectively, opened the activities of the Junior class. The leading roles in this three act farce, which was directed by Miss Lucile Duke, were taken by Betty Cook, as Ann; Paul Ketchersid, as Bob; Myrtle Kulseth, as Vivian, a lisping flapper; and Richard Johnson, as Doctor Tally.

The Lincoln gymnasium, taking the atmosphere and appearance of the North Pole, provided the Juniors and Seniors with a suitable place for the outstanding social event of the year, the prom. All decorations were of a frigid, icy sparkling nature, while "Cec" Hurst's dance band furnished the foot-warming for the chilly expedition to the polar regions.

The Juniors are very grateful to Mrs. Mary Trafton, sponsor of this class for many years, who assumed the same position this year. Mrs. Trafton has given her assistance whole-heartedly which had a great deal to do with the success of the Juniors' undertakings this year. The class of '32 has upheld the standards set by previous Junior classes and give promise of successfully carrying on the work of the Seniors.

Sophomore Class

OFFICERS

President—DONALD ELLIS
Vice President—ROBERT HOLTZE
Secretary—ROBERT WILLICKSEN
Treasurer—BARBARA BOMAN
Sponsor—MISS HELEN CROOKER

THE sophomore class as a whole has been responsible for one outstanding event this year, Sophomore Day, sponsored by the class with the assistance of Student Council. On November 14, 1930, all the freshmen who expected to become sophomores in January were invited to the high school as special guests for the purpose of acquainting themselves with the building and the student body in general. Each freshman was guided through the morning routine by some veteran sophomore who was willing to make his guest's visit as pleasant as possible.

As for activities, the sophomores have taken a comparatively large part in athletics. In the co-ed basketball tournament the plucky Sophs trounced the Seniors but were stopped by the Juniors with a two-point margin. Also, two Sophs were chosen in the co-ed varsity team. Out of fourteen men on the high school basketball squad, six were sophomores, while two placed as regulars on the first team and went to the state tourney.

Six members of the class are in the high school band. In the Glee Clubs' presentation of "The Lucky Jade", the feminine lead was taken by a sophomore class member, while other members took minor parts.

Vacancies in clubs are being filled by the eager Sophs who wish to take part in the activities of school life. Much is expected of this class of '33, which was sponsored this year by Miss Helen Crooker.

Franklin Junior High School

Emma C. O'Donnell

IN athletics, in student activities and in class room work, the Franklin Junior High School can well feel that it has not fallen short of the goal set last year.

Both teams won the city championship in football and the possession of two fine trophies. In basketball, the boys defeated in two-thirds of the games played, were obliged to relinquish claim to the tournament cup won last year. Thirty men won letters in football; fifteen, in basketball. The girls were victorious in both basketball games played and similar results are anticipated for volleyball.

With funds raised by work in two magazine campaigns a school radio was purchased, the surplus of nearly one hundred dollars being reserved for other purposes. Thrift interest, well-established last year, still maintains; this school heading the list of local high schools in sixteen of the twenty-nine weeks reported. Fewer failures and greater numbers on the honor roll are especially noticeable for the seventh grade, that grade leading the others in that respect.

Plans for next year are already in the offing and with sympathetic co-operation and hard work the Franklin Junior High School accomplishments of the coming year will surpass the past.

EMMA C. O'DONNELL, Principal.

Lincoln Junior High

SIX years ago the enrollment at the Lincoln Junior High was 204; today it is 306. With this growth as the years go by the Lincoln motto "All for Lincoln and Lincoln for All" seems to be taking on new life. While class work must always come first, a many-sided activity program has helped to bring out the Lincoln spirit.

The big event of the year was the all school program entitled "Uncle Sam's Visit," a patriotic affair in song and dance. The money raised through this program was used to pay for pictures in the halls and front entrance. This student activity of placing pictures in the halls is one of which all Lincolnites are justly proud.

Athletics as usual formed a large part of the activities and did much to stimulate the proper school spirit.

Banking percentages increased over last year with an average of 85 percent, the high point being 94.

Other activities encouraged were the Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts, Girls' Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, Orchestra, and 4-H Club. The Girls' Glee Club and the Mixed Chorus in competition with the Franklin school won first place and will represent Mankato in the music contest.

National Honor Society

OFFICERS

President—ROBERT BERQUIST
Vice President—MARION REINKE
Secretary—JAMES KEARNEY
Treasurer—MARGARET JOHNSON

TO BECOME a member of National Honor Society is considered one of the highest honors a senior can attain. To be outstanding in scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the requirements for membership. Every year fifteen percent of the upper third of the graduating class are conferred this honor by the school. A flaming torch and shield is the emblem of this organization which is similar to the Phi Beta Kappa of colleges.

Using the tap system for the third consecutive year to select seniors, Eugene Fowler, 1929 member, drew the first name. This year the twenty-five who were chosen elected Mr. L. R. Kresensky as sponsor.

Formal initiation was held April 22 at the high school, with a banquet following the ceremony. Parents and alumni were cordially invited to attend.

Members of the faculty to help make selections were: Mr. L. R. Kresensky, Mrs. Mary Trafton, Miss Marjorie MacDougall, Miss Laura Petersen, Miss Lucile Duke, Miss Ann Erickson, Miss Marjorie Fisk, and Mr. Philip Iverslie.

Back Row: E. Neubert, W. Lutz, M. Holm, G. Cummins, L. Balkenhol, L. Olson, A. Call, W. Affolter.

Student Council

OFFICERS

President—DAVID MCELROY
Vice President—MARGARET JOHNSON
Secretary—MARY JANE WALPOLE
Treasurer—GENEVIEVE CUMMINS

THE Student Council is an organization whose active members are made up of representatives from each home room group. Ex-officio members are the presidents of the junior and senior classes, the editor of the High News, the editor of the Otaknam, and a secretary chosen by Principal L. R. Kresensky. The purpose of the council is to create a closer relationship between the student body and the faculty.

Among the accomplishments of the council this year is the introduction of a "Sophomore Day." The council also sent representatives to the national meeting in Omaha and as a result introduced the student court system into our school. A committee of members was appointed to assist the P. T. A. in making arrangements for the first school party. Many other problems have been successfully acted upon as part of the work of the student council during the past year.

The council thanks Mr. Tindall, sponsor, for his splendid assistance in everything the organization has undertaken.

Quill and Scroll

OFFICERS

President—GORDON KIESEL
Vice President—MAX OTTO
Secretary—EVELYN MORRIS
Treasurer—ROBERT WILCOX

QUILL and Scroll is an International Honor Society for high school journalists, organized to advance the standards of journalism by developing better journalists and to reward high school writers of merit.

The national group was founded at the University of Iowa, April 10, 1926, and with the installation of chapters in China, Alaska, Hawaii, and British Honduras became international in scope. There are now more than 600 chapters and 12,000 members.

The local organization was granted a charter January 2, 1929, and closed this year with twenty active members. Clifford Russell, editor of the Free Press, and Vernard Lundin are honorary members.

Four seniors were selected for membership in November, while five more seniors and four juniors were taken into the group in February.

Miss Marjorie Fisk is faculty sponsor of the local Quill and Scroll.

Front Row: M. Eichhorn, J. Kearney, M. Holm.

Declamatory Contestants

DISCUSSION, EXTEMPORANEOUS

ALTHOUGH handicapped somewhat by lack of veteran material, Miss Lucile Duke, forensic coach, was unusually successful in producing a promising group of contestants for the declamatory, extemporaneous, and discussion contests.

Madeleine Eichhorn ranked highest in the group of declamatory contestants by winning first place at the state. She gave as her reading "Dregs." Madeleine will compete in the National contest to be held sometime in May. In addition, Mary Holm and James Kearney captured first places in the sub-district contest. Although both showed remarkable polish, they were ranked second in the district by the critic judge.

Training in debate undoubtedly assisted the two Mankato High School representatives at the State Contests held at Macalester in each of their groups. John Flachsenhar, who competed in the extemporaneous contest, for which "The American Home" was the topic, went to the state contest where he received a medal for ranking in the finals.

Richard Lindholm, as representative in the discussion group, had for his topic in the state contest "The German Form of Unemployment."

Back Row: R. Lindholm, Mr. Iverslie, J. Lippert.
Front Row: J. Flachsenhar, B. Cook, L. Miller, J. Kearney.

Debate

THE question which was assigned for debate this year was: "Resolved, That Chain Stores are Detrimental to the Bests Interests of the American Public."

Tryouts for debate were held the latter part of October under the direction of Philip C. Iverslie, new debate coach. Those chosen were: Richard Lindholm, John Flachsenhar and James Kearney, first team; and Betty Cook, Lois Miller, John Lippert, second team.

In the first debate the team opposed Winnebago on January 12, at Mankato. The Mankato team upheld the affirmative side of the question and lost the debate, 2 to 1. The second debate was with Wells on January 28, at Wells. At this debate Mankato upheld the negative side and lost by points, 76 to 73.

All the members of the Mankato team were without former first team experience, and, running up against strong opposition, consequently they were eliminated.

James Kearney and Richard Lindholm participated in both debates. John Flachsenhar debated at the Winnebago contest but because of illness was replaced by John Lippert in the Wells debate.

Drama Club

OFFICERS

President—CARL RISSER
Vice President—CHARLES PENNINGTON
Secretary—HARRIET JOHNSON
Treasurer—ERWIN FETHKE

ONLY Juniors and Seniors, chosen in tryouts held before the old members of this group, were eligible for membership in Drama Club, the leading society for people interested in dramatics in Mankato High School. Upperclassmen are always proud to attain membership in this organization.

The purpose, clearly indicated by the name "Drama," is to develop the dramatic instinct in each individual personality.

This year the Drama Club presented a fantasy, "Beggar on Horseback," by Kauffman and Connelly. The cast achieved the production of the play with much success under the direction of Miss Lucile Duke, sponsor.

The play centers around a young man, Neil McRae, played by Donald Shoemaker, whose aim is to become a great musician. The dream that Neil has during the play makes the very unusual and clever effects of a true fantasy. Every member of the organization took some part in the play.

Forensic League

OFFICERS

President—RICHARD LINDHOLM
Vice President—WALLACE LIBERTY
Secretary-Treasurer—MARGARET JOHNSON

MANKATO Senior High School has been outstanding along various lines of speech work. A fine showing has been made by students engaging in extemporaneous, declamatory, and discussion contests.

Only students trying out for debate, declamatory, discussion or extemporaneous speaking, whether they placed in the contest or not, are eligible for membership in this organization of national scope.

The league this year sponsored an assembly which featured Heaney, the magician, in order to raise money to send Mankato contestants to the state competitions, where Madeleine Eichhorn placed first in dramatic readings.

Girls' Civic Club

OFFICERS

President—BETTY CLEMENTS
Vice President—EVELYN PAGE
Secretary—HAZEL SORENSON
Treasurer—MARGARET SPERRY

TO FURNISH opportunity for drill in parliamentary practice and develop a better view of civic problems is the purpose of Girls' Civic Club of Mankato High School.

Thirty-four girls were voted in as members in September. The formal initiation was given by the old members and the new members were hostesses.

Meetings are held every two weeks on Tuesday. Every Thanksgiving the girls do charity work by bringing baskets of food for the people needing them.

Miss Erickson has always been willing to help and interested in this group which she has sponsored for several years. Every girl meeting Miss Erickson through Civic Club greatly appreciates her interest and has grown to admire her greatly.

Boys' Civic Club

OFFICERS

President—CHARLES PENNINGTON
Vice President—RUSSELL FOSTER
Secretary-Treasurer—JAY PIESER

THE purpose of the Boys' Civic Club is to debate the important civic problems of the day and develop better citizenship.

Mr. Philip Iverslie, new Democracy instructor, was elected as sponsor of this organization when it re-organized in the fall. Mr. Iverslie's outside work did not allow him to devote the time needed to make an organized body of this type as active as former clubs have been. A number of interesting plans for next year are already being formulated.

Vice President—MAX OTTO	GORDON FOSTER
Secretary—ROBERT BERQUIST	RUSSELL WINN
Treasurer—NORMAN MEYER	LEROY FRENTZ

HI-Y Club is the only organization in high school sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., with the purpose of bringing Christian ideals into the life of the high school boy. The club membership is limited to thirty. Meetings are held each Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A., and the club aims to have a supper meeting every third week, at which mothers of members serve. Speakers on various vocations are procured for a number of the meetings.

Probably the outstanding project of the club is the "Come Clean Campaign" which it sponsors each spring for the boys of the school. Speakers are provided on each of four days of a certain week to talk on the subjects of "Clean Speech," "Clean Sportsmanship," "Clean Scholarship," and "Clean Living," respectively.

Mr. W. D. Willard of the First National Bank, sponsor of the club, has served in this capacity for several years, and during this time has done a great deal to make the club successful and worth while. Mr. J. M. Tindall was recently chosen faculty sponsor of the club.

G. A. G. R.

OFFICERS

President—JOSEPHINE SCHULZ
Vice President—REBECCA GEORGE
Secretary—LOUISE HINTZE
Treasurer—EYLEEN BRIGGS

THE G. A. G. R. newly organized this year is the largest Girl Reserve organization in the local Y. W. C. A. It has a membership of fifty girls with Miss MacDougall as their sponsor.

Meetings are held the third Monday of every month. A supper is served by a committee of five girls and a program follows. Each girl at some time during the year serves on a committee and in this way the organization helps to promote leadership.

A committee appointed to make programs selected the theme "Travel" and speakers were procured accordingly.

Members of the G. A. G. R. served lunch at one of the Vesper Services held at the Y. W. C. A. in October. An All-Girl Reserve Hallowe'en party was held in October and a Valentine party in February. G. A. G. R. was represented by a speaker at a city-wide organization meeting held at the Y. W. C. A. in November. Each member contributed a gift to the Christmas box which was sent to the Indian children on the Mille Lacs reservation.

This year the G. A. G. R. was in charge of the first "Come Clean" girls' assembly which was held on April 13.

Yell Club

OFFICERS

President—RAY NEUBERT
Vice President—JOHN MICKELSON
Secretary—CARL RISSER
Treasurer—MARGARET BROSNAN

THE principal purpose of the Yell Club is to support all athletic teams. To attain this end the club employs various means in an attempt to arouse interest and enthusiasm among the student body for the support of all athletic enterprises. This year the club sponsored the Scarlet Day dance and cleared approximately thirty-four dollars.

Yell Club has had charge of several pep assemblies with each one coming up to the expectations of the student body and teams in regard to program and stimulating effects.

Marvin Mussell, Yell leader, assisted by Bernice Gibbs and Max Otto, who were selected by members of the Yell Club, are to be commended for their good work at all assemblies, games, and tournaments.

The organization wishes to extend its gratitude to Mr. Tindall, its sponsor, for the interest he has taken in the club and the excellent co-operation which he has given to all its projects during the past year.

Pi Delta Rho

OFFICERS

President—MARY BENHAM
Vice President—EVELYN MORRIS
Secretary—KATHERINE SCHMITT
Treasurer—MARGARET JOHNSON

WHEN Pi Delta Rho was organized in 1922 it was primarily for a literary purpose as a Present Day Reader's Club, but as time has passed it has gradually become a social group with the purpose of maintaining the highest standards of girlhood.

Nineteen girls became members at the formal initiation held at the beginning of this school year, making the total active membership thirty-five. It has been customary for the group to give two annual dances, one being held during the Christmas holidays, the other sometime in the spring.

Each year the organization tries to carry out some project that will be beneficial to unfortunate people. At Thanksgiving and Christmas, baskets are filled and given away.

Mrs. Mary A. Trafton, who has been sponsor of the group since its origin, is a very competent leader of such a group and is deeply loved by its members.

Donald Shoemaker as John Endicott, the hero, and Delbert McGowan, as Horace Ferguson, the villain, made the Operetta, "The Lucky Jade," a lively affair by their various and vigorous means of making love to Mary Ann. Each tried to win this fair maiden for himself. The feminine lead of Mary Ann was taken by Bernice Gibbs.

Mixed Chorus

THE purpose of the music department is to develop the musical ability of the students in senior high, both along vocal and instrumental lines. The Glee clubs under the direction of Miss Vivian Klein, a graduate of MacPhail School of Music, have been outstanding this year. The Boys' Glee Club sang for the mid-year commencement, Parent-Teachers' meetings and numerous other occasions. The Girls' Glee Clubs as well as the Honorary Glee Club were also very active. The Mixed Chorus presented "The Lucky Jade," a very successful operetta.

Mr. Karl J. Aaberg, a graduate of St. Olaf College, has had supervision of the band and orchestra. The band played for all athletic events, accompanied the basketball team to the state tourney, played for the Pavement Jubilee and many other events. The orchestra furnished music for the Drama Club play, "The Beggar on Horseback," "The Lucky Jade," the Father and Son banquet, and Parent-Teachers' meetings.

The entire music department appeared in a concert on April 14 and made an imposing show. They will also compete in the music contest, May second, and are expected to enter the state contest in several events.

Athletic Council

OFFICERS

President—FRED W. YOUNG Secretary—KATHERINE SCHMITT

The Athletic Council is a body of athletic representatives from every phase of high school athletics. It votes to award all letters, has power to withhold any letters or to award honorary letters, and elects all student managers.

The members of the Council are as follows:

H. H. EELKEMA, Superintendent of Schools
LOUIS R. KRESENSKY, Principal of High School
LOUIS N. TODNEM, Coach
FRED W. YOUNG, Faculty Manager
KENNETH ELDRED, Student Football Manager
MARVIN MUSSELL, Ass't. Student Football Manager
JAY PIESER, Student Basketball Manager
JOHN GOFF, Ass't. Student Basketball Manager
RICHARD LINDHOLM, Student Track Manager
DONALD SHOEMAKER, Football Co-Captain-elect
BERT RYAN, Football Co-Captain-elect
BERT BOSTETER, Football Captain
DONALD HECKEL, Basketball Captain-elect
CHARLES PENNINGTON, Basketball Captain
HARLAN WESTRALL, Track Captain
KATHERINE SCHMITT, Senior Representative
JEAN THRO, Junior Representative

Coach Todnem

Coach Todnem

MANKATO afforded a larger field in coaching to Louis Todnem than any of the schools in which he had held similar positions before coming here. Todnem took over the reins of the Scarlet and White athletics in 1923, and from the outset proceeded to make other Southern Minnesota High School coaches respect his teams and style of play in football, basketball, and track. Although there have been years which found comparatively weak teams in one or the other three major sports, due to the lack of material and experience, Coach has never put out a team which has not held the highest respect of the entire student body and town as a whole.

During his stay at 'Kato, Todnem has developed men who later gained great renown in college athletics. Win Brockmeyer, Captain of the 1930 football team at the University of Minnesota, is one of our Coach's greatest products. Other men who received their fundamentals in sports under Todnem are Harn and Earl Wood, Dever Deets, John Hoerr, and "Nubs" Neubert. The latter, Neubert, bids fair to take his place beside Brockmeyer as one of Mankato's greatest athletes. Two other men who leave school this year, Charles Pennington and John Mickelson, will probably be heard of soon in college athletics.

Mankato is highly honored to have such a respected man as Mr. Todnem to direct the physical training of the young men in the High School.

"M" CLUB

Tindall

ASSISTANT COACH TINDALL

MUCH of the credit for a successful year in athletics goes to J. M. Tindall for so very ably handling the position of assistant coach. Mr. Tindall was well qualified to hold such a position because of his experience along that line. Before coming here, he held a similar position in Ortonville, Minnesota, for six years as assistant coach in football, basketball, and track.

While in high school and college he took active part in all sports. He played basketball for St. Cloud Teachers' College and was one of the members of that school's state championship team in 1922. He also played two years for Asbury College, Wilmore, Kentucky, and was honored as Captain of the cage quint in 1924.

Young

FACULTY MANAGER YOUNG

A POSITION which takes more worry and financial genius than practically any other in high school, rested upon the capable shoulders of Fred W. Young. Mr. Young, who was new to this system at the beginning of the school year of 1930-'31, cheerfully took over the job of faculty manager, and his work has been done efficiently.

Although he does not participate in sports himself, Mr. Young has generously offered his assistance and is a good booster.

CO-CAPTAINS

FOR the first time in M. H. S. history, two men have been picked as captain-elects. At the annual football banquet given by John Regan, it was found that two gridders, equally capable, had received the same number of votes to lead the 1932 eleven.

Don Shoemaker, flashy and hard-hitting end during the '31 season, and Bert Ryan, elusive backfield ace, will combine their efforts toward making the coming football season a success. Here's luck to two hard-driving, fighting captains—Don and Bert.

JOHN "Mick" MICKELSON (quarterback)

Always able to remain cool under all difficulities, Mick led the team like a veteran. His generalship was one of the big factors in the success of the 1930 season.

KENNETH "Kenny" STEVENS (half)

Blocking-half is one of the hardest positions on the team to fill and Kenny did it admirably.

RAY NEUBERT (half)

Although injuries handicapped him greatly, it was his indomitable fight that put fear into the hearts of his opponents.

NORMAN "Snorry" MEYER (tackle)

When it came to fight Snorry had plenty of it and used it to an advantage when it was needed. His place will be hard to fill.

JOHN "Johnny" THRO (guard)

Quiet but reliable when the time came. A hard worker with a fighting spirit; very good on the defense.

KENNETH "Kenny" BEETSCH (guard)

Kenny has proven his worth on the football field by his excellent blocking and tackling, and Kato expects a lot from him next year.

WAYNE CURTIS (half)

Wayne's speed and open field running gained many needed yards and points for the team. It was his brilliant running which accounted for the team's coming through victorious in several games.

CHARLES "Chuck" PENNINGTON (center)

This was Chuck's first year at football. He learned the game rapidly and developed into a good center.

ROBERT "Bob" WILLIKSEN (half)

Bob, the only sophomore to earn his letter, proved that he will be a valuable man next year. We hope that he will be able to follow in the steps of his brother Bill.

DONALD "Tiny" HECKEL (guard)

Using his weight to good advantage, "Tiny" developed into a valuable man for the team this year and will be one of next year's dependable men.

BERT RYAN (full)

When it came to line plunges, Bert was there to give all he had. Bert will be back next year as co-captain. We know the team will be successful under his leadership. Best wishes, Bert!

JOHN EUSTICE (half)

John developed late in the season, but showed great promise in Coach's off-tackle smashes.

HARLAN "Sempty" WESTRELL (guard)

Alternating at guard and end, Sempty showed his versatility when it was needed most.

DONALD "Shoey" SHOEMAKER (end)

The boy with the everlasting pep, fight, and wisecracks. He held his own with the best in blocking and tackling. Shoey will be co-captain with Ryan, and this combination should work well.

CARL "Sag" RISSER

Although small, Sag came through to earn his letter after working hard for three years. His pep helped to put the heart back into the team.

BERT BOSTETER (tackle)

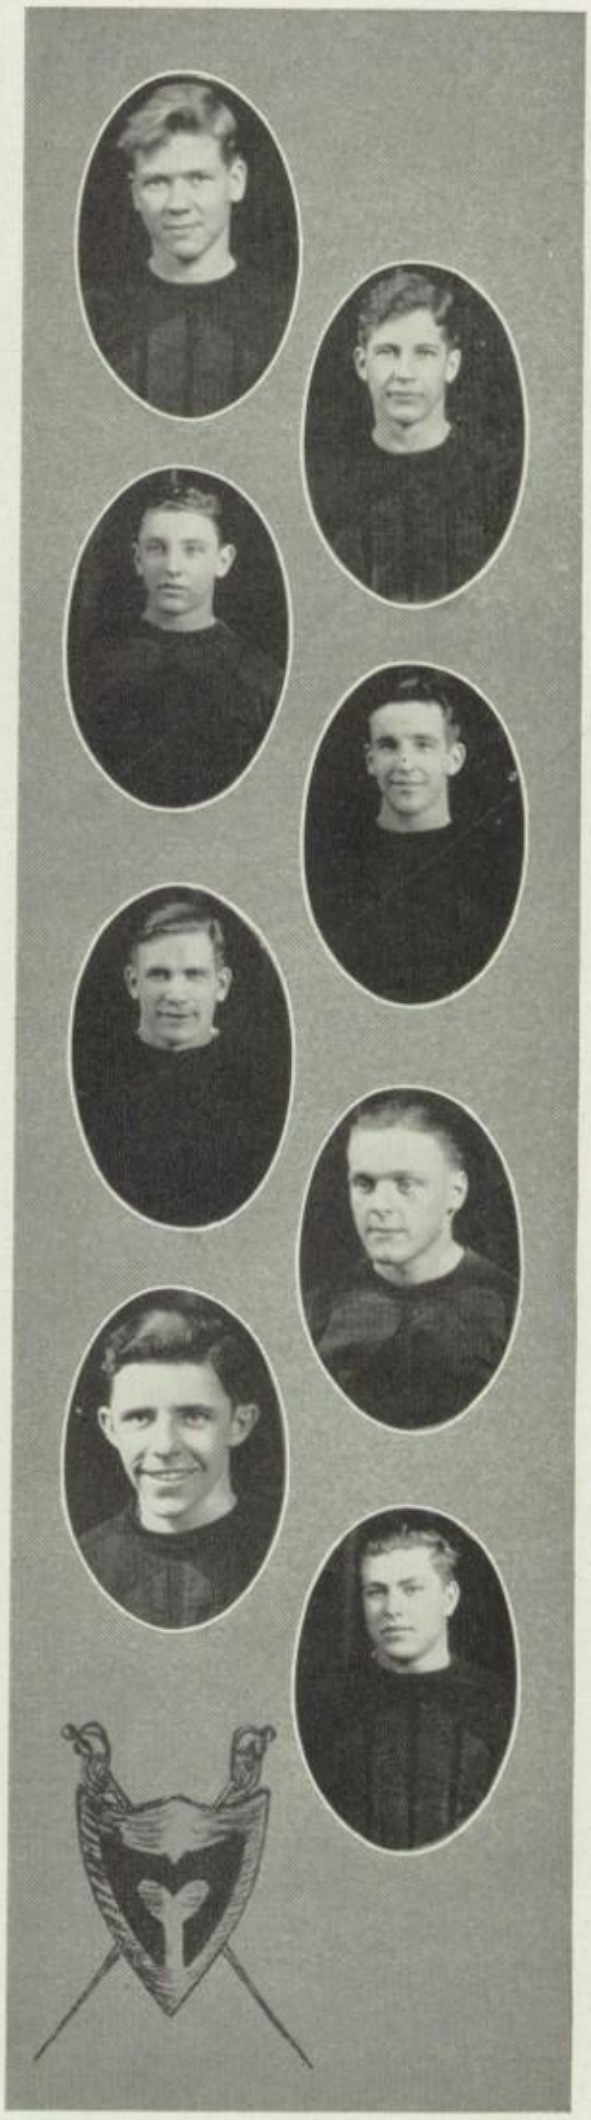
Bert was the backbone of the team and he showed his leadership when the fight was the thickest. He served as a very capable captain and his place will be hard to fill next year.



The Football Season

A STIFF schedule, the return of only four lettermen, and the task of rebuilding an entirely new team from green material, were some of the many difficulties which confronted Coach Todnem at the beginning of the 1930 football season. Sixty men answered the first call for practice, most of them having had little or no experience, but all possessing a spirit to learn and do their best.

October 4 the Scarlets traveled to Blue Earth for the first game of the season. A 24-0 beating was administered to the south state team and this gave our boys much-needed confidence.

The following week Mankato met the highly-touted Fairmont eleven for the first home game. The former boasted one of the finest teams in this part of the state, but Kato held them to a scoreless tie. The wet field kept our speedy but small backfield men from getting away for a score, although Curtis and Ryan hit the formidable opposing lines for good gains.

The team next traveled to Albert Lea, where they were nosed out by a powerful Tiger aggregation with a score of 7-0. This defeat, incidently, was the first that the Scarlet-clad lads had received from any Albert Lea team since Todnem took over the coaching reins at Mankato.

Scarlet and White day still found our boys unable to hit their stride. After a hard-fought battle with Northfield, they emerged on the short end of a 15-7 score.

Next came Faribault. Mankato's spirit was not broken because our men went into the game determined to bring a victory to the faithful fans who had followed them throughout the season. This game was featured by brilliant plays on both sides. Kato outfought and outgamed their old "jinx", Faribault and brought home a 7-0 victory. Curtis, inserted in the last quarter, made the only touchdown of the game.

We followed this win by drubbing Owatonna 25-0 the following week. This was a great game for our gridders. They "ran wild" and in the second period Coach used his second string material which held the Owatonna boys scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Red Wing, a new team in the Little Eight Conference, was the next foe. An even battle was expected throughout the entire session, but when the final gun sounded, Mankato's superiority was evident, as the score showed 12-0 in our favor.

New Ulm, an unknown quantity to our coach and team, was the last hurdle before we met St. Peter on the annual Turkey Day battle. The Scarlets romped to an easy victory over the heavier "Brewers" to the tune of a 21-0 score. This restored confidence and gave Kato much-needed pep for the Thanksgiving encounter.

St. Peter, the Scarlets' traditional rival, met our boys in the former's "own back yard" in zero weather. Our warriors partly avenged the defeats of '29 and '30 by nosing out their opponents 14-13.

The seniors who wore the Scarlet and White for M. H. S. for the last time as gridsters in this game were as follows: Capt. Bert Bosteter, Norman Meyer, Charles Pennington, Kenneth Appel, Wayne Curtis, Kenneth Stevens, John Thro, John Mickelson, Carl Risser, and Harlan Westrell. These boys did stellar work, showed fine sportsmanship during their entire high school careers, and will leave places that will be very difficult to fill.

All Conference Men

BECAUSE of their brilliant and consistent work in basketball, these four men have placed on various all-star teams.

Captain Charles Pennington was named the outstanding center of the Big Eight conference. He was honored with the captaincy of the mythical all-regional team on which he obtained the pivot position. "Chuck" graduates this year. Good luck! Here's to the future of one of Kato's greatest basketeers!

John "Micky" Mickelson, an outstanding man in all sports, rated especially high in basketball. "Micky" placed on the second all-conference team, besides taking the berth of guard on both all-district and all-regional teams. He is also leaving M. H. S. this year. With him we are sending sympathies to all those who attempt to break through his great defensive style of play.

Mankato usually has exceptional talent to fill the guard positions. This year was no exception, with Don Shoemaker, all-district man, teaming with Mickelson. "Shoey" was a great defensive player and his offensive play was far above reproach. His graduation in January is a blow to the 1932 cage prospects.

Being a sophomore did not hamper Bob Bekke from "stealing the show" in both the district and regional tournaments. His clever ball-handling, remarkable dribbling, and uncanny shooting eye gave him a well-deserved position as forward on the all-regional team. Bob has two years left. We won't wish him luck, because luck is one thing Bekke gets along remarkably well without.

Basketball Personals

CHARLES "Chuck" PENNINGTON (captain, center)

Chuck led one of the best and strongest, though smallest, teams of Kato's basketball history. Chuck made all-conference, and all-regional and was also one of the big factors in the team's showing at the State.

ROBERT "Bob" BEKKE (forward)

This is Bob's first letter but not his last. Only a Sophomore, Bob held his place with the veterans. He made all-regional this year.

EARL PENNINGTON (forward)

Also a Sophomore, Earl developed into a valuable man. With this year's experience he will help to build up next year's team.

ROBERT "Bob" WILCOX (forward)

Bob was the shortest man on the team, but made up for his lack of size by his speed and shooting ability. Bob will also be lost from the team next year.

WAYNE CURTIS (forward)

Wayne won his third basketball letter this year and certainly earned it. When the time came to stall, Wayne was there with his fast play to help out. Curtis will be leaving us this year.

JOHN "Healthy" MICKELSON (guard)

Healthy's usual position is forward, but when coach needed guards, Healthy was assigned to this position. He did so well, that he made all-conference, all-district, and all-regional at guard. He will be a hard man to replace next year.

DONALD "Shoey" SHOEMAKER (guard)

Shoey played a great game all season and proved to be a real fighter at guard. Shoey made all district this year. His place will be one of the hardest to replace.

DONALD "Don" HECKEL

(captain-elect, center or guard)

With his height and size, Don should develop into a good center. We wish him the best of luck as he leads his team next year.

The Basketball Season

PROSPECTS for an exceedingly fine 1931 season in basketball were very bright when six veteran lettermen and valuable new material in the form of thirty odd boys answered coach's final call for practice. Cutting the squad is always a difficult task, but this year Todnem found it to be one of the hardest which he has ever had to face. Finally, after great deliberation, his squad was cut to an adequate number of fifteen men.

His first team was built around veterans Charles Pennington, captain and pivot man, and John Mickelson, brilliant and consistant guard. Don Shoemaker, letterman from last year, was a running mate for Mickelson at the other guard post, and the forward berths went to two hard-working sophomores, Earl Pennington and Bob Bekke.

The first game, an experimental affair, was the annual contest between the High School and her Alumni. Refusing the usual handicap offered by the latter, the boys in scarlet nosed out their bigger and rangier opponents by a score of 23-21.

Albert Lea, a conference team met our boys on the former's floor and received a beating at the hands of the Katonians.

St. Peter offered little opposition when they opposed our boys in an uninteresting contest which ended 28-11 in favor of the local team.

St. James fell before our onslaught and Wells followed in like manner. St. Peter again felt the blow of defeat as did St. James in their second contests with the Key City lads.

Owatonna, however, gave us our first scare of the season when Mankato scarcely beat them by a 16-12 score.

The 16-15 victory over the "Fairies" gave Mankato undisputed championship of the Big Eight Conference. An undefeated season was denied when Albert Lea tripped us by a score of 13-16.

Tournament play followed, with Kato taking all three of their required games from Pemberton, Lake Crystal, and Mapleton respectively. Lake Crystal, one of the favorites of the district, gave us our hardest battle. Kato met Mapleton in the finals, emerging with the championship due to a decisive 22-3 victory

A week later, on the same floor where the district was held, Mankato, Luverne, Mt. Lake and Fairmont clashed for the right to represent the second region at the state tournament. The listess playing which was so much in evidence in the district tourney had entirely disappeared. Scarlet and White flashed through opposition in an amazing fashion. Such dribbling, shooting and floorwork was indeed a treat to the eyes of our delighted fans. Luverne fell the first night and Mt. Lake's long shots were fruitless against our superb defensive play in the championship game which was held the following evening.

After a week of hard practice, the Second Region "champs" set out for the State tournament held at the Minnesota Fieldhouse in Minneapolis. We had the distinction of presenting the smallest and youngest team of the tournament and also having the best defensive record of any team present. In the first game, the scrappy south state team caused an upset by beating the strong St. Paul Central five, by a 22-18 score.

In the following games Mankato was beaten by Buffalo and Chisholm by scores of 28-11 and 42-26 respectively. The comeback of the Scarlet lads in the second half of the Chisholm game was one of the highlights of the entire tournament.

Although we did not emerge with a state championship, we are justly proud of our '31 cagers.

The Saturday Morning League

EACH year Coach Todnem organizes the Saturday Morning League among the boys of the high school. The different teams which comprise the league consist of boys who do not quite come up to varsity caliber, but who have plenty of good basketball in their systems.

This league often produces fine material for the coming basketball season, because unknown ability is generally uncovered.

During the 1931 season the race was a close one, resulting in a three-way tie. The Minute Men, Crusoes, and the Park Gang were to play for the championship of the league. The Crusoes drew to play the Park Gang, defeating them 13 to 14. As a result the Crusoes played the Minute Men in an exciting preliminary tilt before the Mankato-Albert Lea game. The score ended 16 to 14 with the Minute Men on the long end of the scoring.

Members of the championship team are: B. Bosteter (Captain), guard; E. Fethke, guard; J. Kelly, forward; H. Footner, center; K. Webber, forward; and D. Hoover, forward. All with the exception of Footner, are seniors.

The '30 Track Season

ABOUT twenty-five men reported for track to Coach Todnem's first call for practice. There were only five veterans from the 1929 track squad, and many bright prospects included in this group.

In the first contest the Scarlets met the more experienced Teachers' College athletes. Good material was discovered in this meet. Don Hildeen took the only first place won by Kato High, that of high jump.

In the next meet, the Scarlet trackmen waded through mud and wet grass to score 34½ points, winning the Southwestern championship. Captain Ray Neubert tied for first in the pole vault, while Westrell, "Nubs" Neubert and Hoerr won other first honors. Hoerr scored 10¾ points to be high point man of the meet.

Winning the first Big Eight invitational track meet at Owatonna, the Mankato athletes brought home their third conference championship of the year. In thirteen events they scored 49 points, securing five first places.

Continuing in the Carleton meet, Mankato was again successful in winning the meet of their class.

Harlan Westrell was elected to lead the 1931 track team. He should be a very capable man and Mankato can depend on his winning many points. Good luck, "Sempty."

Kittenball

ALTHOUGH kittenball is a minor sport at M. H. S., it has promoted much interest among the men of the faculty and students.

Coach Louis Todnem makes it a point to organize a kittenball tournament each spring. Last year's seniors, with Lyle "Scooter" Schwieder as captain and Philip Sheldon on the mound, were expecting to walk away easily with the honors, but for one or two tough games with the juniors. They had previously won championships as sophomores and juniors. However, the juniors won the championship, and as seniors this year are again expected to triumph, after some stiff opposition from the sophomores.

Members of last year's championship team were: W. Curtis, J. Mickelson, M. Antonson, H. Karstens, M. Otto, E. Fethke, J. Hall, B. Hanson, P. Jensen, K. Stevens, and F. Detamore.

Vice-President—HELEN STEWART
Secretary—RUTH MERRILL
Treasurer—JEAN THRO
Sponsor—MISS ALICE RUDBERG

MISS Alice Rudberg, physical education instructor, organized the Girls' Athletic Association in February, 1929, and has been sponsor since its organization. Starting with thirty girls, the membership has increased to fifty. To be eligible for G. A. A. one hundred points are required, which are earned through the G. A. A. activities. A hundred points are given for first, fifty for second, and twenty-five for third teams in kittenball, basketball, track, and volleyball. Points are also earned by being a runner-up in class "A" and "B" and winning the championship title in tennis. Participation may also win points in swimming, stunts, hiking, and rollerskating. An "M" is awarded to each individual earning 500 points.

The association this year earned most of the money for their expenses by selling candy at the regional tournament.

The purpose of G. A. A. is to promote the interest of all girls in the athletic field and encourage sports in the younger generation.

TO place on the varsity team is the aim of every girl who plays basketball. Every year at the close of the tournament eight co-eds are chosen to represent the high school in the annual alumni game.

This year the varsity suffered defeat 28-17. The alumni played a fast game, both in defense and offense. Marcella Gacke, '30, piled up the opponents' score, while Rosetta Morrison, junior forward, starred for the varsity. This is the first time in several years that the varsity has been defeated.

Those playing for the alumni were: guards, Helen Hoffmaster, Ruth Neitge, and Clarice Wigen; forwards, Marcella Gacke, Mrs. Murray Hawes (Leah Taylor), and Doris Miller.

The basketball manager, Rosetta Morrison, and the physical education instructor select the varsity.

Back Row: K. Schmitt, H. Stewart, I. Weston, B. Thieman, Miss Rudberg.
Middle Row: M. J. McElroy, R. Bengtson, J. Thro, R. Morrison, E. Karstens, A. Call.
Front Row: H. B. Morse, C. Hoerr, J. Sheldon, B. Wood, R. Roberts.

Basketball Teams

DEFEATING both senior and sophomore basketball teams, the juniors obtained the right to hold the interclass championship title. The winning team members are: forwards, Rosetta Morrison, Esther Karstens, and Ramona Bengtson; guards, Jean Thro, Audrey Call, and Mary Jane McElroy.

The juniors easily overwhelmed the seniors, who have been the under team in every athletic activity. The senior team was composed of: forwards, Mary Harriet Benham, Helen Stewart, Carmen Crooker, and Katherine Schmitt; guards, Bernice Thieman, Isabel Weston, and Margaret Sperry.

The title-winning game was played between the sophomores and juniors. The juniors barely nosed out the plucky and strong sophomore team by one point. Those playing for sophomores were: forwards, June Sheldon, Catherine Hoerr, and Harriet Beetsch; guards, Ruth Roberts, Betty Wood, and Helen Bell Morse. The sophomore defense proved the best of all the teams.

Rosetta Morrison, junior forward, and June Sheldon, sophomore forward, showed up as the best point makers during the tournament, each one making the greater part of their teams' scores.

This is the first year the juniors have held the championship title.

Middle Row: R. Trisko, M. Eldred, J. Thro, R. Bengtson, E. Hoeppner, E. Karstens, R. Morrison, R. English.
Front Row: R. Roberts, D. Lutz, J. Sheldon, H. Nichols, B. Wood, G. Englerth, C. Hoerr.

Volleyball

CO-ED volleyball has now taken a major part in the G. A. A. program. Fifty girls turned out for the first practice in September, but gradually dropped out until an adequate few were left to make a well-organized team from each class. Sophomores won an undisputed victory over the juniors, while the seniors did not place once.

Members of the winning team were: June Sheldon, Jean Trisko, Joyce Jones, Helen Nichols, Dorothy Lutz, Catherine Hoerr, Betty Wood, Gwendolyn Englerth, and Ruth Roberts.

The junior team was made up of: Jean Thro, Rosemary English, Ruth Trisko, Viola Merritt, Rosetta Morrison, Esther Karstens, Ramona Bengtson, Leona Rosehka, Edith Hoeppner, and Margaret Eldred.

Seniors were: Evelyn Page, Abigail Wog, Marion Reinke, Bernice Thieman, Helen Durenberger, Cora Dot Lawrence, Isabel Weston, and Evelyn Uppstrom.

What's in a Name

BERT and Mary decided to take an Otto (Max) ride to the Little (Mary Frances) Berg (Rosetta) of Petterson (Loren). About fifty miles from Holm (Mary) they became Stoll-ed (Carmen) in a deep Meyer (Norman). Altho' Bert was mighty as a Smith (Marjorie), he could not Force (Emily) the Otto (Max) out of the mud.

About that time a Mann (Doris) came down the road, followed by two others, one of whom was George (Becky). Bert could see that Allman (Virgie) had a Blumin-shine (Ray) on, but he climbed a Pohl (Florence) and called for help. The four men used their Force (Emily) and lifted it Balk-en-all (Loretta) weighing a Ful-ton (Miss) from the Meyer (Norman). The radiator began to Cook (Betty) so Bert Peek-ed (Lyle) under the hood; straight way he felt 500 Watts (Dorothy) go Searing (Arthur) up his arm. Our hero did not Foster (Russell) much patience and began to Thro (John) Wood (Dale) at the poor old Ford, which made Marks (Earl) all over the back.

Meanwhile Mary had taken a Curtis (Wayne) Barr (Bud) from the back seat and gone down by the river to watch the Swans (Thelma) and Turtles (Florence). Bert gave each of the men a Penney (Sam) and followed Mary, Strom-ing (Chuck) his guitar. Mary took the Liberty (Wallace) of asking him to share her Barr (Bud) but he declined because his Lip-pert (John) and also he had a Koenker (Bob).

Then he took a Small (Wm.) Brown (Marie) Book (Phyllis) from his Cote (Clark) and began to turn the Pages (Babe). Mary picked a Rose (Berniece) and put it in her Flachsenhar (John), and came back when Bert had to Warner (Dorothy) about going to close to the Shore (Miss).

Finally a Young (F. W.) man named Eldred (Ken) came with a load of new Fisk (Miss) tires; this was all the Otto (Max) needed. Bert, as happy as a Duke (Miss), changed the tire, and he and Mary drove on through the town of Aaberg (Karl J.), Tindall (James M.) and on to Petterson (Loren).

SCARLET AND WHITE DAY

Teachers' Meeting

TIME: 4:30 FRIDAY NIGHT
PLACE: "B" ASSEMBLY
PRINCIPAL CHARACTER: KRIS

A general buzzing is heard as Kris steps majestically to the platform. He snaps his fingers and yells: "Order, please!"

"Ham Sandwich!" (This from Mr. Iverslie, who has been half asleep in the 18th seat in the 19th row.)

Kris: "We are met—Mr. Small, will you please refrain from talking while I have the floor?"

Mr. Small: "I was just telling Phil about the time when I was a boy in Michigan and—"

Kris: "Never mind Michigan, we have come to discuss matters which are in a much worse state—state of affairs I mean. We are met to...." (again he is interrupted by a buzzing from the far side of the room where Miss Klein, Miss Duke, Mr. Tindall, and Mr. Young have congregated. Kris looks annoyed and points to that section), "I'm agonna do all the talking! It's the same 2%! We are here to decide what to do with all the "Wild West", "Western Stories", "Detective Stories", and "Shakespearean Plays" Miss Fulton has collected from the students."

Miss Shore: "If placed end to end they would reach from here to Kasota. And if we use the Binomial Theorem and the table of Louges, we would find that after a few weeks' calculation, we'd have just X-99% of 8Y per unit—"

Kris: "Very good, Miss Shore, we will go into that later."

Mr. Small: "Save me a "Whiz Bang" for 5th hour study. I do wish we had found a few volumes of Horace or Homer! How many H. S. boys are seen now days reading them? Why, when I was a boy in Michigan I—"

Kris: "I'll do the talking!—"

Mr Foss: "I move—"

Kris: "You've moved too much already! Miss Fisk would like to make an announcement on the Squill and Roll—I mean Kill and Quroll—I mean—oh never mind, we are met, ladies and gentlemen, to discuss books; magazines which are trashy,—this sort of thing has to be stopped!"

Miss Petersen: "It's backwoodsy!"

Mr. Tindall: (softly quoting a saying to himself) "Reading maketh a full man—Bacon."

Kris: "What did he say?"

Mr. Young: "Eating maketh a full man—achin.' "

(A loud crackling noise is heard in back of the room.)

Kris: "Coach, have you a new brand of gum? It sounds snappier."

Coach: "It's mint-covered India rubber; goes farther in a long chew. Flavor lasts longer, doesn't wear out, and once you start it, it keeps the jaws moving without an effort."

Mr. Aaberg: "I have the formula: $H_2S+C_{12}H_{22}O_{11}$ and minus 2 drops of H_2O rubber. The H_2S gives it that fragrant odor."

Mr. Foss: "I move that—"

Kris: "Mr. Foss, you are moving entirely too much, will you please settle down? It is only 8 o'clock."

Miss Mac: "I think we should build a stand in front of the T. C. and sell them for the Faculty fund. You know, sort of gyp me sale."

Mr. Iverslie: "O wonderous mind, wisdom great!"

Miss Mac: "Don't try to be hyperbollically eulogistic!"

Mr. Ling: "He doesn't have to go to all that trouble; I have plenty of tools downstairs."

Mr. Foss: "I move that—"

Kris: "Order Please!"

Miss Daniels: "I second the motion."

Miss Crooker: "What motion?"

Miss Daniels: "The last one."

Miss Fisk: "But he didn't move!"

Kris: "Motion carried, all in favor, raise their right hand."

All: "Aye!"

Mr. Foss: "I--I move that we have our meeting in 109!"

Kris: "Why?"

Mr. Foss: "I--I move that we have our meeting in 109!"

Meeting is immediately adjourned and the curtain falls amid groans and shrieks of all those whom it concerned.

The Building Talks

THE old janitor walked slowly down the hallway, he paused before the trophy cases and gazed for a moment at their glittering contents, then he switched off the remaining light and picked his way carefully down the darkened stairs. He dropped wearily on the ladder-like stool in the hall and let his gaze wander down the long empty corridor. He sat there for a while and then he spoke, not to himself but to the old building which he had learned to love during his many years of service within her walls. "Another year gone, another group is leaving us," he mused.

To the astonished ears of the old man a voice answered him, "Yes, another group gone—forever!" Then to ease his mind, the voice continued, "Do not be alarmed, I am an old friend of yours, I am the voice of Mankato High."

The janitor was delighted and soon found himself in earnest conversation with this soft, mellow voice which he had never heard before. They talked while the old clock in front of 109 slowly ticked away the minutes which soon passed into hours. They recalled famous athletes who had once worn the maroon and white; they pointed out professional and business men and women of great renoun who had received their high school training within these very walls; and they spoke of each trophy and the exciting contests in which they had been won.

Finally the old janitor asked a question which had been on his mind for many years, "Doesn't it discourage and hurt you when you receive so much abuse at the hands of the students?" he asked.

The voice of the school became soft, "Yes, at first it did. In my youth I often became angry at the mad rushes in my halls at assembly periods; my ire was often raised at some thoughtless youngster's carving my desks and marking my walls. But I no longer consider that abusive, for it is a part of me. These marks are now like old scars; they no longer hurt. Very few new ones have been made and the old ones can remain there until I am gone—" here the voice seemed to break as if it were sobbing—"Yes, in a very few years I will be gone and a new school will be in my place. She will not be marked and scarred as I have been, she will not have these rushes in her halls. The assemby period is my heart, and the rushes to it are the veins which carry the blood which has been my life. This blood moves in a happy joyous current and when it is gone, then I will be gone also. She, the new school, can never hope to turn out finer boys and girls than I have! And she will not be loved more by her students than I have been by mine?" This last was said in a half questioning tone.

The listener smiled sadly at this long speech. "When you are gone," he finally said, "there will be no place in a new building for me, I have grown too used to you now. We have grown old together, so let us hope we will be together at least a few more years." Then he seemed to remember the question of the school and said, "I too have watched boys and girls come and go; watched them fight for you; watched them show their great love for you and for the things for which you have stood. No, no school could be more loved no matter how new or beautiful she may be!"

The voice gave a sigh of relief and joy at the old man's last words and then was silent. The latter found himself alone, seated on the stool in the hall and gazing down the now sun-filled corridor. Had he been dreaming? He shook his gray head, put on his coat and hat and stepped out into the morning sunlight. He walked to the end of the street, stopped and then turned and looked back at the building he had just left. It seemed to smile at him and again he seemed to hear that soft voice saying, "Next Year!"

Autographs

Dear Dick:
Sorry I couldn't go to the class play, but glad in a way because it made you call me up.
Yours for success
Velma Brighley

Dear Dick,
Have enjoyed knowing you. Sort it just too bad we're seniors. I'll miss everybody and everything next year, won't you?
Lots of luck,
Genevieve '31

Dear Dick:—
Writing in annuals is quite inoperational at times. I could write pages, but I suppose a few words will give other people a chance. Remember what I said and "muff" said. Lots of luck in the future, Dick! Don't forget Adelaide.
5/24/31

Dear Dick:
Just remain the Fool and when you think of it Think of me and all the places we have gone. Don't spend your last dime for a gallon of ice cream blue gas yours—
Arnold Lamb
"30"

Dear Dick:—
See, I've written so much that I'm about all written out. See won't it be tuff not to be coming back next year—
Loads of luck. Becky Keogh.

Autographs

Dear Dick:
I wish we were in school together
again.
Ramona Kenyon

Dear Dick,
I'd like to be with you
this year.
Lucille Ebert

Dear Dick,
Boy! please tell me what to write. If we just there that Dem test will finally get out of U.S. at last!
Denis to a good ~~pal~~ pal classmate
Edith P.

Dear Dick:
I'm sure glad
we will graduate
together.
Ruth Jovaag.

Dear Dick:
I'd like luck to be with a wondering
star
Vera Hodson

Dear Dick:
Yes, the first is
bothering you again.
I sure have enjoyed knowing you. Don't forget our suffering
in English.
Best wishes to a
dear kid.

Autographs

Dearest Dick
Best of luck to a good sport.
Sincerely your friend,
Mary Fuller "3"

Dear Dick.
Here's wishing you luck as an old flame as you
Jim Kelly

Dear Dick
Don't waste enough energy to forget the good ~~th~~ time we had at the prom, just remember it.
Yours
Ross.

Dear Dick
For this favor you
did lending me that vodvil
Ild always remember your that you used to
Sincerely
Doris Dream

Dear Dick—
I've been so much of you I don't know what to write. Anyway its a good thing you told your Ford before Bring it on in.
Best Wishes D.A. King

Dear Dick—
It seems plenty good of thru the with this dump. Lots of luck. Hod Hanson

An Appreciation

NOW that the 1931 OTAKNAM has been completed, the staff wishes to express its sincere thanks to all those who have made possible the publication of this volume:—first to Snow's Studio, the Bureau of Engraving and the Free Press Company for their co-operation and help; to the subscribers, Senior Carnival patrons and many organizations whose funds made it possible to publish this volume without advertisements or gifts; to Carmen Crooker and other students of the art department who added so much to the art work; to our faculty advisers for their help and suggestions; and to the faithful typists who prepared the manuscripts.

RESERVED

I'm so glad you left the last page for me.— is that taking too much for granted?? Remember where I first saw you— and Carl? the cute notes we exchanged? how bashful we kids were? I know we really aren't but first impressions etc. Take care of yourself Dick, and don't run away from home any more. You're too old for that— 19 years, did you say.'

Be careful how you run around with the "Women". They'll get you some day. All jokes aside. I think you're a keen kid. I hope I see some more of you if I come back next year. If you are ever down my way drop in and see me.
